

An artistic illustration of baseball players. A large player in a white uniform with green accents and a green cap is the central focus, looking upwards with a determined expression. Behind him, another player in a grey uniform with blue accents and a green cap is running with his arm raised. In the foreground, a player in a green uniform with red and white striped socks is sliding into a base. Another player in a grey uniform is visible behind him. The background is a deep blue sky with a yellow horizon line.
